

Frail

Sweet are the feelings you spread over me,
sweet is the scent you let arise,
sweet are those dreams only you guarantee,
all I know is I don't wanna lose you twice.

Deep went the spears I used to shoot at you,
so long it took to recognize,
you are the blooming breath who feeds my soul,
all I know is I have to apologize.

Please forgive me, I spoilt you with envy,
my own inner critic made you just weak and seek.
Please forgive me for my being so nasty,
you were constantly maimed by mistrust and disdain.

Stay! Don't leave me once again!
Stay! Don't be afraid! You know I've changed.
Only you make the moment sail,
flower don't fade now I know you're
frail.

Poor was the soil you should be nourished by,
poor was the seed that you could sow,
poor was my wit that didn't hear your sigh,
all I know is I will never let you go.

Please forgive me.....

Stay! Please clothe me in your charm!
Stay! Give me that glow and keep me warm!
Only you let the presence dance!
Thanks that you brought me to my-

Stay! I know now you are frail!
Please make the moment sail!
Thanks for that second chance!
Now let the presence dance,
let the presence dance,
please now let her dance.